It's our advanced food technology and strong R&D backgrounds keep our innovation motor boosting. This advantage has hence gained growing loyalty and trust from our increased customers.

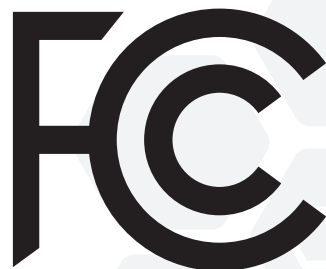

Texture Maker stays on MIT, Made in Taiwan, for ultimate standards of every products. Our factory is certified by SGS under the standards of HACCP and ISO22000. Both certifications cover the food supply chain, food safety risk control and product safety. On top of that, we can hence integrate "technological innovation, quality control and customer assurance" into our food safety policy. In response to the international trend of increasing demands for food safety in food product trading and the needs for mutual recognition between countries, the above two certifications are our basic food safety guarantee to consumers.

In addition, we also have HALAL, providing multiple options for Muslim consumers. FunTex waffle maker has passed CNS norms and certified by BSMI and FCC. The best part is, the flipping FunTex series is certified by UL/CUL, ensuring the top safety for user and also approved by worldwide markets.

Texture Maker has established not only the most advanced production facilities but also consider our employees as the most valuable assets. In 2016, we support our employees to join the iPAS program, encourage them to join and acquire the certification of the "Food Quality Assurance Engineer Certification Test". We strive for standard-optimization of our QA and QC all the time, ensuring the food safety for our customers on all counts.

我們的承諾 Our Commitment:
